Lauril Hall, author

- “People who have sex with a multitude of real or imagined partners become self-centered, superficial, soulless, compulsive, and mental unbalanced.”

Dr. Tim Keller, author/pastor

- “It is a temptation for women to tie their self-worth to outward physical beauty. They think, ‘Why should I care about my character when no one else does?’”

Dr. Miriam Grossman, counselor

- “Why is there such a surge of bright, accomplished young people, students at one of the nation’s best known universities, flooding the offices of psychologists, psychiatrists, and social workers? They are looking for relief – from their crying jags, sleepless nights, relentless worrying, and thoughts of death.”

Paul D. Meier, Psychiatrist

- “I have had millionaire businessmen come to my office and tell me they have big houses, yachts, condominiums..., nice children, a beautiful mistress, an unsuspecting wife, secure corporate positions – and suicidal tendencies. They have everything this world has to offer except one thing – inner peace and joy. They come to my office as a last resort, begging me to help them conquer the urge to kill themselves.”

Tom Wolfe, author

- “Today’s first base is kissing . . . second base is oral sex. Third base is going all the way. Home plate is learning each other’s names!”
